

Seek Candidates for L. R. School Board Posts

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock sought candidates for its vacant school board posts today while a court battle shaped up over School Supt. Virgil Blossom's contract.

A friend of Gov. Orval E. Faubus is expected to announce a slate of school board candidates tonight to replace the five members who resigned Wednesday after declaring their position was one of "utter hopelessness, helplessness and frustration."

Meanwhile, Blossom, architect of Little Rock's plan of gradual integration that hit a snarl, was prevented from collecting payment on the last 19 months of his contract.

Before the five board members resigned, they voted to buy up Blossom's contract and release him at the end of this month. The move was regarded as an effort to protect him against an incoming hostile board.

The issue of paying Blossom was challenged in a state court yesterday and now must go through legal channels that probably will be lengthy.

Only one candidate has announced he will seek a school board post in the Dec. 6 election. He is James T. Karam, a Main Street clothier and a close friend of Faubus.

It is Karam who plans to announce a slate of candidates tonight. He has been endorsed by the Capital Citizens Council, a strongly pro-segregation group.

Efforts to form a slate of candidates among the city's bankers apparently were not progressing.

All six school board posts will be open in the Dec. 6 election. Five became vacant by the resignations of Wayne Upton, R. A. Lile, Dr. W. G. Cooper, Harold Engstrom, and Frank Lambright.

Dr. Dale Alford, an avowed segregationist, did not resign, but, as a representative-elect, he will not seek another term on the board.

L. R. University Board Quits Too

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — When five of the six members of the Little Rock School Board who resigned Wednesday night, five of the six members of the Little Rock University Board of Trustees also quit.

That's because the School Board is also the University's official board.

And that's because the late George W. Donaghey specified it was to be that way.

Gifts of Donaghey, a former Arkansas governor, made possible establishment of Little Rock Junior College, which has since become Little Rock University. Income from business properties left by Donaghey go to the university.

The hard set-up has been upheld by the Arkansas Supreme Court. The university, however, is not a part of the Little Rock public school system.

Negro Gunman Kills 2 Women in Virginia

BOWLING GREEN, Va. (AP) — A middle-aged Negro drifter was seized by two members of a posse today as a suspect in the fatal shooting of two white women at a Caroline County home Thursday night.

Sheriff R. Garnett Brooks of Caroline hustled the man off to state police headquarters near Ashland. He said the man, who identified himself as William Brown, 56, Shelbyville, Tenn., "admits he was in the house."

Acting on a telephone tip from a woman who said she saw someone answering the gunmen's description, the suspect was seized about six miles from the white frame farmhouse where the two women were shot to death. He said armed with a loaded pistol.

The two women were shot after a Negro intruder held eight persons hostage as he terrorized their home for two hours.

While they sat tied in the dining room were Mrs. James S. Brooks, 33, wife of James S. Brooks, and the mother of four small children, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Kate Lewis Brooks, 71.

Frederick Van Allen, in the Brooks' home to give a music lesson was injured during a scuffle with the gunman and was hospitalized at Fredericksburg.

More than 150 state and local police sought the slayer with bloodhounds near this central Virginia town of 700, some 20 miles south of Fredericksburg.

Edna Mae Parker, 18, a Negro hired as a maid by the Brooks earlier this week, gave this account:

About 4:30 p.m. the intruder knocked at the back door. When Jean Brooks, 9, answered he pulled out a pistol and forced the girl and maid into the dining room.

There he collected the younger Mrs. Brooks, Van Allen, and Mrs. Brooks' twin sons, Lynn and Lewis, 8. He then tied the three adults.

The elder Mrs. Brooks came downstairs and was tied with the rest.

Asked if she had any money, the younger Mrs. Brooks said she had $15 or $20 in her purse up stairs. The gunman sent Jean off to the porch.

When the telephone rang, the intruder had Jean answer it. It was her brother, Mason, 7, asking why his mother had not come to art school for him. The intruder had Jean tell him his mother was taking a bath.

Mason rang back a few minutes later and said art teacher was sending him home in a taxi cab. When the taxi arrived, the gunman had Jean go outside and pay the driver with a $5 bill.

After short time later the younger Mrs. Brooks' husband drove up and the intruder went outside to meet him. They scuffled in front of the house and Brooks fled for help.

The gunman then returned to the house and shot the two women.

Van Allen, meanwhile, had managed to work loose and attempted a break. The intruder grappled with him but the music teacher fore loose and ran from the house.

Van Allen got into his car and drove away as the gunman fired several shots at him. The slayer then let the house to a store and robbed the incident.

Brooks, widely known in this area, operates a restaurant.

Wins a Divorce for Three Reasons

LONDON (AP) — Mrs. Sheila Blomfield won a divorce today for three reasons: A python, a boa constrictor and an alligator.

She complained they terrified her but her husband, biologist Peter Stanley Blomfield, insisted on keeping them in their small apartment.

DISMISSED — Wayne Upton, left, president of the Little Rock, Ark., School Board, has announced that school superintendent Virgil Blossom, right, has been dismissed without cause. Upton also announced that the entire board, with the exception of Dr. Dale Alford, was resigning. — NEA Telephoto

CAN HARDLY WAIT — Four-year-old Raul Medina can hardly believe his eyes as he gazes at a Santa Claus figure which struck his fancy in El Paso, Texas, but he will have to wait until Christmas morning to begin playing with it. Handy Santa helpers, sponsored by the Herald-Post, are mending toys which will bring Christmas cheer and gifts to needy children at Christmas time. — NEA Telephoto

PTA Approves Sex Discussion in Classes

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Should high school pupils be asked questions dealing with sex, stealing and whether they are losing their minds?

A Parent-Teacher Assn. group said the questions were perfectly all right.

The president of the school board said nothing doing, the questions were objectionable.

The school superintendent tossed in the towel. He said publicity given the psychological tests had destroyed their value.

So pupils in Baltimore County schools no longer will be asked such things as:

"Do they worry about sex matters?"

"Did they steal when they were younger?"

"Are they afraid of losing their minds?"

Things came to a head after pupils at Franklin Junior-Senior High took the tests. Some parents objected. The furor got into the papers.

School Supt. Edward G. Stapleton said "any value the program offered has been destroyed by publicity over the thing."

Ernest F. Wooden, president of the Board of Education, said "We have to rely on the recommendations of the superintendent."

The board without comment ordered the tests ended.

FBI Breaks Up a Big Numbers Ring

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Federal agents claim they have broken up a $300,000-a-day numbers ring that operated out of a candy store and nearby apartments.

U.S. Secret Service agents and local police seized bushels of numbers slips, financial records and $10,000 in cash in the raid on a candy store and two other locations Thursday night.

Arrested in the candy store were Joseph Romeo, his wife Irene, and two brothers, Frank and Ralph. Patrick Pecararo and Mrs. Mary Martin, Mrs. Romeo's mother, were arrested at their homes nearby.

They were arraigned and released in $10,000 bail, each on charges of failing to obey wagering tax laws.

Joseph P. J. Mayer, director of Internal Revenue here, called the operation one of the biggest policy syndicates in the country.

Mayer said Treasury agents watched the candy store for four months after an agent walked in accidentally and found 15 to 25 men writing numbers slips right in the front of the store.

In addition to slips, Mayer said, the raiders impounded unset diamonds, jewelry and scales for weighing gold.

Soldier Killed in Auto Wreck

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — A Fort Bragg soldier was killed and another critically injured last night when their automobile failed to make a curve and overturned on U.S. Highway 301 near Fayetteville.

Sgt. I.C. Tom V. Robinson, 26, was killed, and SP-3 Casser L. Smith, 25, hospitalized with a fractured thigh and a fractured vertebra.

Highway Patrolman R. N. Watkins said it was not determined who drove the car.

Robinson's wife, Hattie, and their two children live at nearby Spring Lake. His mother, Mrs. Martha Ann Robinson, lives in Birmingham, Ala.

Thrill's home is in Greenville, S.C.

Severe Weather Warnings for SW Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau today issued a severe weather alert for southwestern Arkansas.

"A few severe thunderstorms, with one or two tornadoes, are expected in extreme northeast Texas, extreme southwest Arkansas, and extreme northwest Louisiana today from 1 to 7 p.m. (CST)," the bureau said.

"The approximate area is along and 60 miles either side of a line from 50 miles southwest of Dallas, Tex., to 50 miles east of Texarkana, Ark."

Arkansas today got its first rain in several weeks. And on the heels of the precipitation came a U. S. Weather Bureau warning of possible severe thunderstorms, or a tornado or two, in southwest Arkansas.

The Weather Bureau said the turbulent weather could expect in extreme northeast Texas, extreme southwest Arkansas and extreme northwest Louisiana between 1 and 7 p.m.

The rain, which ranged from light in some parts to heavy in others, fell in most sections of Arkansas, whose woods were getting dangerously dry.

A spokesman for the State Forestry Department said the precipitation had eased the danger of forest fires at least temporarily. "We have no fires going at present," he said.

Yesterday State Forester Fred Lang had warned of "critical" danger of forest fires as a result of the dryness of the woods. He said about 2,000 acres near Hardy were damaged by fires this week and 1,500 acres were burned near Mountain View.

The heaviest rainfall reported today was 2.84 inches at Jesselville, near Hot Springs. Hot Springs itself had 1.12 inches.

Alicia in Lawrence County had 1.16 inches. Black Rock, Batesville and Seavey each reported 1.10 inches.

The early morning measurement at Little Rock was .33 of an inch, but the fall continued and the Weather Bureau said the total would be considerably more.

Little Rock's last measured rain was .21 of an inch on Oct. 21-22. On Sept. 30, Little Rock had a rain of 1.25 inches.

Turkey Shoot Sunday at Fair Park

The Hope Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a Turkey Shoot Sunday, November 16, 2 p.m., at the new rifle range in Fair Park. There will be divisions for shot guns, 22 rifles, and archery.

Entrants can furnish their own guns and archery equipment, or the Jaycees will have guns and archery equipment available for use.

A turkey will be awarded the winner in each contest of the rifle and archery events.

Each person attending the turkey shoot, whether a participant or a spectator, will be given a ticket that will make them eligible for a drawing, which will be held during the shoot and a turkey will be awarded the winner, free of charge.

In event of rain or bad weather, the shoot will be held the following Sunday, All Jaycees are urged to be at Fair Park at 1 p.m. Sunday.

19 Counties Exceed Ratio of Assessment

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Nineteen of Arkansas' 75 counties have reached or exceeded the required 18 per cent figure on property assessments, the state Assessment Coordination Department reported today.

Russell Morton, attorney for the agency said a 20th county — Little River — was expected to be centered at 18 per cent or higher next week.

State law requires that property must be assessed for taxation purposes at 18 per cent of market value by Dec. 15. Penalty for failure to comply would be loss of a proportionate share of state turn-back funds.

But counties which do not meet the deadline have a year in which to reach the assessment requirement and reclaim the turn-back money.

Morton said that five counties — Cross, Boone, Union, Washington, and Woodruff — have assessed at 20 per cent or more of market value.

The remaining unclassified counties, he said, are in some phase of reassessment or have taken steps toward obtaining reapportionment.

He predicted that some counties would fail to meet the Dec. 15 deadline but he added, "It is impossible to tell how many."

Morton also predicted that no county would suffer a permanent loss of turn-back funds.

Other counties which have reached the required assessment level are Benton, Calhoun, Columbia, Desha, Howard, Independence, Jackson, Lee, Lincoln, Perry, Pulaski, Sebastian, Madison and Clark.

Little Rock to Issue Bonds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Little Rock City Manager Board will sell $3,300,000 worth of municipal improvement bonds at a public auction on Dec. 12.

The bonds will be part of a total of $4,950,000 worth which were authorized by Little Rock voters at the Nov. 4 general election.

The remainder will be sold later. City Manager Dean J. Dauley said he had been advised by security dealers that the city probably could get a better rate of interest by holding an auction than it could by taking sealed bids.

No Change in Defense Policy, Says McElroy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said today in the wake of Pentagon statements about U.S. missile plans, that there are no basic changes in U.S. defense policy.

"The State Department took an unusual step in giving its interpretation of news conference remarks by Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy."

The department emphasized, apparently to reassure U.S. allies in Europe, that:

1. The United States still wants its European allies to set up intermediate-range ballistic missile bases.

2. The United States still stands ready to help European allies produce their own missiles, including intermediate-range missiles.

3. The U.S. program for developing intercontinental missiles is only part of the overall defense strategy for the free world.

Emphasis on the intercontinental missiles as only part of free world defenses apparently was aimed at erasing any idea that the United States might supplant intermediate missiles with intercontinental missiles.

The statement was read by department press officer Joseph W. Remp who declined to answer any questions.

Remp said the statement was in response to inquiries arising out of McElroy's news conference comments Thursday. This was unusual since the State Department ordinarily refuses to interpret Pentagon statements, referring questions to the Defense Department.

At his news conference Thursday, McElroy indicated that the long-range intercontinental missile might shove the intermediate range missile out of the U.S. arsenal.

Will Decide Soon on Hike in U. S. Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration will have to decide soon whether to ask Congress to raise the federal gasoline tax and postal rates to help offset massive deficit spending.

An administration source said a proposal to increase the gas tax to help finance superhighway construction is one of about a dozen measures now being considered for inclusion in the 1959 legislative program.

This source said any tax hike probably would be in the neighborhood of 1 to 1 1/2 cents a gallon. The present tax is three cents.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he could neither confirm nor deny that a firm recommendation for a gas tax increase had been sent to Eisenhower.

Tools Examined Not Murder Weapons

MEMPHIS (AP) — Two blood-stained tools authorities have been studying for weeks apparently are not the weapons used to bludgegun Dr. Gaylor W. Henry to death.

Blood found on the tools — a wrench and a caulking iron — does not match the blood type of the slain veterinarian. And neither does it match that of the man who turned them over to police, the attorney general's office reported today.

James Capes, 42, first said he snatched the tools while fishing in a lake near the Henry Clinic where the veterinarian was murdered.

Later, Capes changed his story and told authorities he planted the tools after smearing them with his own blood. Police said Capes has a record as a publicity seeker, was sent to a mental institution for observation. He now is serving out a $50 fine at the penitentiary on a disorderly conduct conviction.

The 45-year-old bachelor veterinarian was beaten to death on Oct. 14. The killer set fire to Henry's bedroom at the clinic before fleeing. Some $2,000 in coins and currency were found scattered about the room.

Gets Ready for Duck Call Contest

ESS F. K. Mo. (AP) — Murn Robin of Maplewood, a St. Louis suburb, will represent Missouri in the national duck calling contest at Stuttgart, Ark., this year.

Robin placed first in a duck calling contest in this southeast Missouri town yesterday held under the sponsorship of the Essex Sportsman's Club and attended by more than 100 from throughout the state. Bart Billington of Sikeston placed second.

Bill Phillips of nearby Dexter won a goose calling contest.

The man who keeps on the lookout for business doesn't have to worry so much about the business outlook.

Studebaker to Show New Cars Today

Lark by Studebaker, a completely new series of smaller, more economical, more maneuverable, "enthusiasm sense" cars go on display Nov. 14 at Archer Motor Co. downtown on Third St.

Establishing a revolutionary new concept of automotive transportation, the new 1959 Studebaker Lark is specifically designed from the ground up to meet the specific demands of today's driving needs.

The new Larks are smaller in overall size, yet actually are roomier inside than previous models. This was accomplished primarily by reducing front and rear "overhang" to a minimum, while at the same time maintaining a "big car" passenger compartment to enable six adults to ride in comfort.

The wheelbase of sedan and hard top models is 108½ inches, while over-all length is only 175 inches — shorter than previous models by more than two feet. Yet, front leg room is equal to last years Studebaker and rear leg room is actually greater. (The new station wagons measure 113 inches in wheelbase, 184½ inches in over all length.)

Trio Kills Manager, Robs a Bank

NEW YORK (AP)—A 55-year-old bank manager was shot and killed today as three robbers took an estimated $9,000 to $10,000 from a Queens bank. A customer in the bank received a leg wound.

Police identified the manager as James F. Duggan. The holdup was staged shortly before 11 a.m. at the United National Bank of Long Island, located at a busy shopping intersection in the Richmond Hill section of Queens.

One of the bandits reportedly received a severe cut on his left leg from broken glass at the bank. One of the trio apparently remained at the wheel of the getaway car, for there were descriptions of only two who entered the bank.

Edward Watson, 56, South Ozone Park, Queens, an automobile mechanic, was shot and wounded in the left leg while standing at a teller's window making a deposit. Watson told police that one bandit took up a station at the door while a second leaped over a rail and jumped on a bank officer's desk.

"Then I heard the shots," he said. "I felt something hit me in the leg. I was down on the floor. That's all I know."

First alarm came from Dep. Fire Chief Paul Rusch who was cruising the area in his official automobile.

A clerk rushed from the bank and hailed Rusch, reporting that the manager had been shot in a robbery. Rusch called the city communications headquarters in Queens, which notified police. Patrol cars were sent to the scene. FBI agents also headed for the bank.

Mrs. Lloyd Lingo Hostess
To 47 Friendship Club

Mrs. Lloyd Lingo entertained the 47 Friendship Club on November 12 in her home. She had lovely bouquets of purple chrysanthemums and of marigolds which decorated the house.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Bryan Clark. Mrs. Lingo read the scripture, Matt. 21:22-23, and the group joined in a discussion of the passage. Mrs. C. F. Wiggins then read an appropriate poem.

A birthday party was given for a member, Mrs. D. E. Faris. Mrs. Orville Oglesby distributed numbered pieces of papers with phrases or words on them. When they were read in proper succession, it was a birthday message for Mrs. Faris. The honored guest was also the winner of the Surprise Package.

The hostess served cake, coffee, or cold drinks to the club members and one guest, Mrs. C. F. Speake.

Mrs. Owen Nix Hostess to Hope Iris Garden Club

The Hope Iris Garden Club met Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. Nov. 11 in the home of Mrs. Owen Nix with Mrs. W. I. Stroud as co-hostess.

The living room was beautifully decorated with fall mums. Roll call was answered by naming a national flower. During the business session conducted by Mrs. A. A. Abritton, plans were completed for a rummage sale to be held on Cotton Row this Saturday Nov. 15 from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Mrs. Sam Huckabee was made chairman of a committee appointed to decorate the Hope Nursing Home for Christmas. The program "Dri-Art" was presented by Mrs. Lathrop Spates. This program consisted of the art of drying flowers also how to make a potpourri and a potpourri ball.

Mrs. Abritton made several interesting arrangements, showing different ways to use dried material. Mrs. Sam Huckabee won 1st place in the arrangement contest with an arrangement of drift wood and dry material. Mrs. Billy Dan Jones won 2nd place.

The hostess served a dessert plate to the members and two guests, Mrs. Josh Chaney and Mrs. Bill Caldwell.

Hinton HD Club Meets in Home of Mrs. Oscar Rider

Hinton HD Club met November 10 in the home of Mrs. Oscar Rider for an all day meeting.

Potluck was served to eight members and two guests. The meeting was opened by all repeating the HD Club Woman's Creed. The devotional, Psalms 147:20 was read by Sue Griffin, followed by the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. Carley gave a good report on Black Widow Spider.

Mrs. Oscar Rider won the surprise package.

The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Stella Adams Bearden for the Christmas party, Dec. 8.

Mrs. Garland Medders Hostess
To Wesleyan Service Guild No. 1

The Wesleyan Service Guild No. 1 met Monday, Nov. 10 in the home of Mrs. Garland Medders with Mrs. Rachel Edmiston as associate hostess.

Mrs. James McLarty, president, presided and opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer. A short business session was held at which time reports were heard from the committee chairman on social relations and Missions. Mrs. J. W. Patterson, program leader, conducted a most informative discussion on "Literacy and Christian Literacy around the world." A love offering was taken, and the meeting closed with the Guild Benediction.

A delicious dessert plate was served by the hostess to 11 members.

Chapter AE of PEO Meets

With Mrs. Jim McKenzie
Chapter AE of PEO met on Nov. 11 in the home of Mrs. Jim McKenzie with Mrs. Carl Hinton as co-hostess. Bronze and yellow chrysanthemums were the attractive floral decorations used in the home.

The short business session was conducted by the Chapter president, Mrs. L. B. Tooley, after which an interesting program was presented by Mrs. Henry Haynes. It was entitled "Our Heritage of Leadership."

During the social hour, the hostesses served peaches, cake and coffee to 15 members and one guest, Miss Summer Tipps of Houston, Texas.

Mrs. Eldon Steadman Entertains
Fireman's Auxiliary Tuesday

Lovely bronze chrysanthemums decorated the home of Mrs. Eldon Steadman when she entertained the Fireman's Auxiliary on Nov. 11. The president, Mrs. A. M. Willis, conducted the routine business meeting.

A number of games were enjoyed by the members with the following ladies being the winners: Mrs. J. W. Cunningham, Mrs. A. S. Willis, Mrs. Joe Hollis, Mrs. Joe Don Webb, Mrs. J. T. Barber, and Mrs. Carroll Yocom.

They were served delicious pineapple cake and coffee by the hostess.

The 1959 Lincoln reveals its classic design consistency by retaining its clean, long, low sweeping lines. Styling refinements include an enlarged sculptured steel scalloped that extends into the front door, an aluminum applique at the rear quarter, and a new front grille that extends into the headlamp area. A new wraparound bumper encloses the grille. Overall length has been reduced two inches. Lincolns will have an improved all welded unitized body that provides added strength and eliminates squeaks and rattles.

Lincolns on Display at Trading Post

Classics styling refinements marked with conservative and clean lines enhance the appearance of the 1959 Lincoln and the Mark IV Continental. They are now on display at The Trading Post on Third Street.

Front and rear grilles are restyled and more steel sculpture has been added to the profile. Continental has added two new models — a Limousine and a Town Car.

Lincoln has continued with its unitized construction for 1959 in a plant at Wixom, Michigan, especially designed for this type of automotive manufacturing. The plant began operations 14 months ago.

Lincoln and Continental are the only cars in the fine car field to use the integrated body construction method. This permits lighter

Alford will take the Fifth District congressional post of Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark), which he won in a write-in campaign in the Nov. 4 election.

A suit filed by John B. King, a fruit company employee, blocked the move to pay off Blossom's contract.

King's suit charged the payment would be an "illegal misuse and diversion of public funds" and amounted to collusion between the board and Blossom.

King's suit was filed by James L. Sloan, a former assistant state attorney general. It apparently headed off plans of a similar move by Amis Guthridge, attorney for the Capital Citizens Council.

King said he was not a member of any segregationist organization. His employer, Theo A. Dillman Sr., is vice president of the Capital Citizens Council and a board member of the States Rights Council.

New board members elected Dec. 6 will assume office in time to pay salaries and meet the obligations of the district.

Says China Creates
Vast Slave State

SEATTLE (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said today the leaders of Communist China are creating a vast slave state to increase the power of international communism, "but it is hard to believe that this effort will succeed."

In a talk prepared for the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, he declared: "Any despotism founded upon the denial of human values... has within it the seeds of its own destruction."

He said it is fortunate that custodians of China's historic culture — the Chinese Nationalist government on Taipei — are beyond the reach of Communist dictators. Dulles has been presiding over the Colombo Plan ministers' conference on Asian economic development.

Homecoming Tonight for the Undeclared Bobcats

A luckless Arkadelphia Badger team comes to Hope tonight for a district contest with the potent Bobcats. The contest starts at 8 o'clock.

A victory for Hope would clinch the district title. Another incentive for the Bobcats is the homecoming festivities scheduled to take place prior to the kickoff.

On the local scene last night the Hope Juniors lost to Camden by a 20 to 7 tally. It was also homecoming for the local lads. In the opening contest the 7th and 8th graders also lost to the visitors by a single point.

Only a deluge of rain at game-time, it rained here most of Friday morning, will prevent a large crowd from turning out to see the Bobcats in action in their final home game. Two other contests are away from home.

A win tonight, and Hope is favored to make the score about what they want, would be No. 10 for the season. The Bobcats have an excellent chance to go through undefeated with Prescott and Nashville the final two foes.

Both usually give Hope all they want but neither team is expected to be able to cope with the high-flying Cats who have mowed down everything so far this season.

If the Bobcats can go through undefeated it would be the first time in the history of Hope High School. So it's a chance, the final on the home field, for the fans to see a Bobcat team in action that is likely to be unbeaten.

Porker Frosh Roll Over Texas Tech

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An offense that rolled off yardage in impressive chunks brought Arkansas Shoats a 33-0 victory over the Texas Tech freshman team last night.

Tech made only one scoring thrust and it was cancelled by a penalty.

With the air attack of quarterback Sonny Holmes and the ground work of a trio of speedy backs, the Shoats were in complete control from the opening whistle.

Halfback Lance Alworth and Curly Cox and fullback Norman Revis accounted for most of the rushing yardage that helped the Shoats rack up 370 yards in total offense. Tech's total was 172.

A 14-0 halftime lead set the Arkansas frosh off on a rout.

Holmes completed four straight passes to bring Arkansas its first touchdown, connecting with Al Worth on a 10-yarder for the score.

Later Holmes tossed again for a touchdown, this one to end Edward Evans on a play that covered 74 yards. Evans ran 55 of them.

A third Holmes touchdown pass in the second half went to end Jerry Mazzanti. It covered six yards.

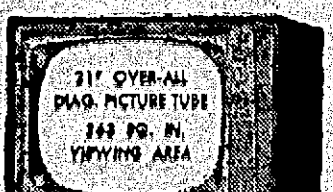

Halfback Bruce Fullerton opened Arkansas' second half string with a 10-yard touchdown thrust, and the Shoat third team accounted for the final marker. Halfback Jim Shreve set it up by returning an intercepted pass 35 yards to the Tech 5, then went over three plays later from the one.

The victory was the fourth in a row for the Arkansas freshmen. Their only remaining game is against the Tulsa frosh, which also defeated Tech.

Fights Last Night

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—One hot fighter is bound to be boxed off tonight when favored Tony Anthony takes on Sonny Ray of Chicago at Madison Square Garden in a television in-fighter.

Anthony, the top light heavyweight contender, has won six straight fights this year, five by knockouts. Ray, ranked sixth by Ring and 10th by the NHA has swept nine in a row.

Tall Tony is a 3-1 to keep his streak alive.

It's a risky fight for the 23-year-old New Yorker. He'll collect about $5,000 just to keep busy. A defeat by the comparatively obscure Ray would be damaging to Tony's lightweight position and his heavy-weight ambitions. A victory would add nothing.

Conversely, this is a big one for the 22-year-old Ray. The ex-GI is a new comer to the top ten. He won a berth among the elite group by stopping Jesse Bowdrie in the ninth round Sept. 24.

A pro four years, Ray, 5-11 and 172 pounds, has compiled an 18-5-5 record including seven kayos. He has been stopped twice.

Anthony, 6-1, 178-pounder, has a 36-5-1 record, including 28 kayos. His five defeats were by knockouts or technical knockouts.

SMU Thinks Arkansas to Be Tough

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Maryland Coach Tommy Monte is beginning the weekend's football activity on a revolutionary note. If we are to believe some modern concepts of how a football team should be run.

Monte complained recently that the pressure to win has dictated the use of his most experienced players and a 2-6 record doesn't justify this policy. When the Terps take the field in the Orange Bowl tonight to play the University of Miami, there will be some changes.

Foremost will be quarterback Dickie Snarbarth and end Ed Berkner, both third stringers. They will be part of Monte's gamble as he plans to give some of his less experienced players a chance.

There may be a revolution of sorts Saturday too, if Missouri upsets sixth-ranked Oklahoma in their battle for the Big Eight championship and a berth in the Orange Bowl. Oklahoma hasn't lost a Big Eight game since 1947 and will try to keep its streak alive before a regional television audience.

There are some battle-royals on Saturday's schedule. One is between top-ranked Louisiana State, driving for a national championship, an undefeated season and a Sugar Bowl berth, and Mississippi State, in a Southeastern Conference game. LSU has an 8-0 record.

At Iowa City, Iowa's Big Ten champs and Rose Bowl-bound Hawkeyes try to avenge a 17-14 licking from Ohio State last year. This defeat cost the Hawks the Big Ten crown. Ohio State (No. 10) has lost its last two games at Iowa.

The Southwest Conference has a couple that could break a tie for first place and send either Texas Christian or Rice to the Cotton Bowl. TCU (No. 9) takes Texas in a regionally televised game. Rice (No. 17) meets the Texas A&Es. If TCU and Rice win, their game next week could decide the title.

The Big Ten, which has settled down to playing out the schedule, has fifth-ranked Wisconsin trying to solidify second place against Illinois while Purdue (No. 8) meets 13th-ranked Northwestern in a TV game.

Fourth-ranked Auburn, ineligible for any bowls because of NCAA probation, meets SEC foe Georgia. A victory by the defending national champs and an LSU defeat would send Auburn into the SEC lead. Mississippi (No. 7) a potential bowl participant, plays Tennessee in another SEC game.

In the East, third-ranked Army plays Villanova in its last game before meeting Navy Nov. 29 in Philadelphia. Syracuse (No. 12), a possible for the Gator, Cotton or Orange Bowls, meets intrastate rival Colgate. Rutgers (No. 10) plays the Quinlan Marines. Rutgers has a 7-0 record.

Georgia Tech (No. 20) meets Alabama, both of whom have been mentioned for a post-season bowl. While Florida (No. 18) faces Arkansas State.

Eleventh-ranked North Carolina goes after its seventh straight victory in the face of Notre Dame's George Izo and his lightning offense. Pitt (No. 14) fresh from its 29-26 upset of the Irish last week, has a possible in a New Year's Day bowl plays Nebraska.

The All-Purpose Academics (No. 10), a hot prospect for the Cotton Bowl, meets Skyline leader Wyoming. Southern Methodist (No. 15) faces elimination from the Southwest Conference race if it loses to Arkansas.

The East has the traditional Princeton-Yale game on a regional television hookup while Dartmouth meets Cornell. Princeton, Dartmouth and Cornell all share the same Yankee Conference title with a victory over Rhode Island.

West Virginia plays Williams. May to try and clinch the Southern Conference title while Clemson meets North Carolina State in hopes of winning the Atlantic Coast Conference crown and a berth in the Orange Bowl.

SWC Title Race Tie Could Be Broken Saturday

By HAROLD V. HATLIEF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Southwest Conference football race is expected to square away Saturday for the big show Christian and Southern Methodist.

That would all have to happen because Rice and Texas Christian tied for the lead with unbeaten records, will clash next week Southern Methodist has to come through in order to stay in the race.

Rice got battered, battered Texas A&M at Houston. Texas Christian face bitter Texas at Fort Worth. Southern Methodist journey into the Ozark to play an Arkansas team that didn't hit its stride until it was on ice, but hope to make up for it with a driving finish.

Rice and Texas Christian have 3-0 records. Southern Methodist 2-1. The latter has a beat Arkansas or be eliminated from the race unless Texas A&M should upset Rice and Texas beat Texas Christian. In that event both Texas and SMU would still be in contention because they would have two defeats and Rice and TCU one apiece.

SMU thinks it faces the toughest row Saturday, meeting the resurgent speedsters of Arkansas at their home lot. Statistically, SMU seems to be far superior. Arkansas has the worst defensive record in the conference. Southern Methodist has the best offensive record.

But Arkansas in its last two games has loomed large in the picture, beating Texas A&M handily and smashing Hardin-Simmons.

Texas Christian, too, has the danger signals out. Texas is crippled but still potent, as last week's triumph over Baylor attests, and the TCU game is one of the biggest on the Longhorn schedule every year.

Rice is favored to beat A&M about as it pleases.

Some 130,000 fans are due to turn out to the three games with Houston expecting 60,000, Fayetteville 30,000 and Fort Worth 40,000.

Baylor, already out of the race, vests this week girding itself for a great effort against Southern Methodist Nov. 22.

A perfect five-for-five last week was as welcome as a loan without interest. Confidently.

Rice-Texas A&M — It surely would be an upset but there isn't seem a chance for the Aggies to win. Rice by three touchdowns.

Texas Christian-Texas — A faster, hard-fought game with Texas Christian's manpower triumphing. Southern Methodist-Arkansas — Passing scores faster than even 100-yard runs; Southern Methodist by a nose.

Judge Milwee Plans to Retire Today

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Veteran state Supreme Court Justice Milwee steps down from the bench today, retiring on disability after 13 years as an associate justice.

The Arkansas Judicial Retirement Board granted the 57-year-old jurist's request for retirement yesterday after eight doctors testified he suffered from a serious heart condition.

Milwee, defeated for Democratic renomination by segregationist leader Jim Johnson of Crossett in the Primary.

The judge did not reveal his future plans. He is entitled to receive half his $15,000 a year salary as retirement pay.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus has authority to appoint a successor but has not indicated when he will do so or whom he will choose.

Charge Against NACF Dismissed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A charge against a NAACP official of violating North Little Rock's Denial Ordinance was dismissed yesterday.

The charge was pending in Pinhook Circuit Court against W. A. Fair, vice president of the North Little Rock chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

North Little Rock City Attorney Rod Thompson told Judge William J. Kirby he wanted to dismiss the charge because a similar one was charged against another NAACP official.

The other charge is against Mrs. Birdie Williams, president of the North Little Rock NAACP chapter. Her case is on appeal to the Arkansas Supreme Court.

The Bennett ordinance, written by Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett and adopted by several Arkansas cities, requires certain organizations to file membership lists and other information with city officials.

Rosburg Top Threat in Pro Golf

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

HAVANA (AP)—New length and confidence off the tee have transformed California's Bob Rosburg into one of the chief tournament threats on the professional golf tour.

"I won in pretty much of a slump until I got a new driver just last in the Masters Tournament last spring," the pudgy former Stanford student from Palo Alto said, "and things have been going well ever since."

Rosburg, who has won $25,000 this year, carried a one-stroke lead today into the second round of the $45,000 Havana International Tournament.

The tournament is still wide open with the hand-picked field of 43 closely packed. Seven players are within two shots of each other and only four shots separated the top 20.

Rosburg had a stroke edge over a trio of tough old campaigners, the favorite Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Doug Ford of Yonkers, N.Y. and Marly Furgol of Sherman Oaks, Calif.

Each with an even par 70. Another stroke back at 71 are three of the more formidable youngsters on the tour, Billy Maxwell of Dallas, Don January of Eastland, Tex., and Wes Ellis Jr. of Ridgewood, N.J. Six including PCA champ Doug Fisterwald have 72s and seven have 73s, including former world champions Julius Boros and Tex Krohl.

Group Spreads Good Will for merica

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of youngsters that included two Arkansians told yesterday how they spread American goodwill during several months of farm work overseas.

In the group were Carol Joan Bessley of Humphrey, Ark., who visited Germany, and Ruth Davis of Magnolia, Ark., who visited Denmark.

The youngsters made the trip under the international farm youth exchange program.

Cousins Jailed for Store Burglary

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Two young cousins were arrested today in connection with the burglary of the Williams Hardware Co. at Fort Smith Tuesday night.

The boys were booked as Robert L. Bollinger and George A. Ellington, both 24, of Osage, Tex. Detectives quoted them as saying they were cousins.

Detectives Ralph Middleton and Robert Turner picked up the pair at a Fort Smith rooming house. The officers said the two signed statements admitting the burglary in which about $100 in cash and nearly $3,000 worth of merchandise was taken.

Some of the loot was recovered.

AIDC Seeks to Aid Harbor Development

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Industrial Development Commission is seeking new legislation to help Arkansas communities develop port and harbor facilities on navigable streams.

William P. Rock, executive director of the AIDC, said yesterday he asked Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett for a rundown on existing laws in the field.

Bennett reviewed some of the current laws. He suggested that the Bureau of Legislative Research of the University of Arkansas be asked to work with legislators in drawing up new laws.

Kerosene Fumes Blamed for Death

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Fumes from kerosene which she had smeared on her face 10 hours earlier killed 7-month-old Charlene Ann Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen of Lake City, Ark., last night.

The child died at 11:30 p.m. yesterday at Community Methodist Hospital at Paragould.

Mrs. Allen said she was sewing when she heard a caw fall in an adjoining room where the baby was in its walker. She rushed in and found the baby unconscious. The child had picked up a coffee can partially filled with kerosene and rubbed or spilled it on her face.

The can apparently fell when the child slumped into unconsciousness. At the hospital, the child's stomach was pumped but no traces of kerosene was found. This indicated the child had not swallowed the fuel but had been overcome by its fumes.

Space Rescue Ships Not Too Far-fetched

By ALTON BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Writer SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Your space ship is off course and out of control.

In 16 hours, it will collide with an automatic weather station satellite circling the earth. Your own steering rockets won't work. But you know you are on a collision course.

What to do? You are about ready to take off after a visit to the moon. But you haven't enough fuel.

Or an unlucky hit by a meteor has ripped away part of your space ship. Most of your food supply was lost. What to do?

Space rescue ships are the answer, responding to your SOS. Or racing out on their own when they detect that something must be wrong.

Space scientists already are considering how to set up mercy mission satellites and ships. And how to solve intricate problems of making a rendezvous in space.

Rescue satellites circling close to the earth could be one solution, says Norman V. Peterson of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Sunnyvale, Calif.

They could be big enough to send out emergency space repair trucks or mercy ambulances.

Or they could be designed so they could slow up or speed up, or swoosh up to a higher orbit to intercept and rescue people on a satellite or space ship in distress.

Peterson described the problem and proposed solutions today at a space symposium sponsored by the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine and arranged by Southwest Research Institute.

Space rescues would be far from simple.

A rescue satellite headquarters would need excellent methods of communications to hear an SOS or detect trouble, and mathematical computers to figure how to maneuver to the scene to overtake or reach a space vehicle in trouble.

Other rescue satellites might circle far above the earth to aid interplanetary travelers, Peterson said.

Some rescue ships might be controlled or launched from the ground.

Peterson also proposed a kind of satellite service station to go repair or retrieve damaged space stations, such as automatic weather watchers or astronomical observatories.

Accidents will undoubtedly occur in all phases of space operations, said Col. Paul Campbell of the School of Aviation Medicine.

In the vast sea of space, rescue operations will be harder than they were in the isolated continent of Antarctica before airplanes were flying in there with lots of other necessary support, he said.

Navigating rescue missions in space will call for almost a new science in itself, he added. Also tough is the problem of transferring people from a disabled ship to another in the vacuum of space.

Briefs Ordered in Garland Sheriff Suit

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Attorneys have a week in which to submit briefs and additional pleadings in Clyde E. Wilson's court fight to be declared Garland County sheriff.

Wilson seeks a recount of ballots in an effort to unseat Sheriff Leonard Ellis, who was declared the Democratic nominee in this summer's primary.

Circuit Judge Bobby Steele of Nashville held a preliminary hearing yesterday and gave attorneys the week for additional action. Steele presided for Garland Circuit Judge C. Floyd Huff, who was disqualified by the Arkansas Supreme Court after a challenge by Wilson.

Steele said he would examine briefs and additional pleadings Nov. 24 and try the case Dec. 2 if he decided it should go to trial.

4-H Clubs Meet in Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Members of 4-H Clubs throughout Arkansas gathered here today to open the 4th annual state 4-H Club Congress. About 300 persons were expected to register.

Twenty-seven club members and 11 adults will be honored during the two-day session.

The 27 youngsters will be awarded trips to the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago Nov. 28 to Dec. 4 for winning various state club projects.

Winslow Boy Proves Good Entertainment

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—A strong drama of affirmative values, played movingly by an outstanding cast, came to television Thursday night when DuPont Show of the Month presented "The Winslow Boy" on CBS-TV.

It was superlative entertainment. Based on an actual episode that led to a famous trial in England 50 years ago, the television drama adapted from Terence Rattigan's play developed timeless themes of honor, faith and love.

Fredric March, as a father who believed in the innocence of a son accused of theft, gave one of the most memorable performances seen on the home screen in many months. As his wife, who viewed the situation pragmatically rather than idealistically, Florence Eldridge was superb.

Young Rex Thompson portrayed with feeling and perception in the role of the son booted from the Royal Naval College after being wrongfully accused of forging his name to a five shilling postal order.

Sinban McKenna brought wonderful dimension to the role of the sister whose life was frustrated by the father's determination to see his son vindicated. Noel William's portrait of the attorney who brought the youth's trial to a victorious conclusion was excellent.

Sumner Locke Elliott wrote a fine adaptation for the David Susskind production which was directed by Alex Segal.

"Let right be done" was the sentiment that motivated the Winslows in their quest for justice. Certainly right was done to television viewers in possibly the best drama of the season thus far.

Heart Operation Fails on Child

BETHESDA, Md. (AP)—A seven-year-old Arkansas girl died at a local hospital last night after an operation performed to repair a heart condition.

She was Anne McClain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy McClain, Bauxite, Ark.

The body will be returned to Bauxite.

We're putting the pyramids right back where they were!

Recently we have been testing a slightly different label on the Camel package. The experimental design changed the illustration and the wording a little. That's all. No change whatever was made in the famous Camel blend of choice Turkish and domestic tobaccos.

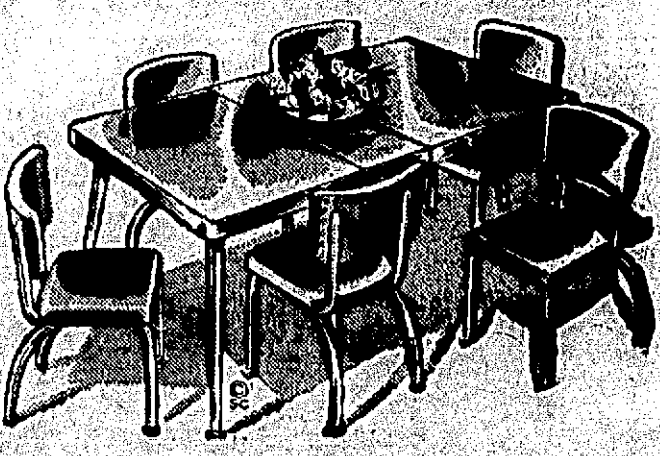

What we learned in the test is that Camel smokers prefer the original package, so we're putting the pyramids right back where they were, as quickly as we can do it. The test package is being discontinued, so you will soon be getting your Camels in the package you know so well.

We have always been proud of the loyalty of Camel smokers, and we thank you for helping us decide not to change the looks of the package that brings you the best-liked cigarette of them all! (Yes, we are happy to say that again this year, for the 10th straight year, Camel outsells all others!)
